North Macedonia is ripe for exploration – let Thammy Evans and Philip Briggs show you why.

- Explore the oldest lake in Europe – the glittering Lake Ohrid.
- Learn about the country's rich history on visits to Ottoman mosques and Orthodox monasteries.
- Trek the little-worn trails that weave through North Macedonia's stunning scenery – from dramatic canyons to craggy peaks.

Thammy Evans had this to say about why North Macedonia is worth the trip: "Most people don't know where North Macedonia is and it was once described to me as the greatest 'non-destination' country. But if you care to scratch the surface, you will find a country brimming with history, artefacts, rich local culture and beautiful scenery."

About the author and updater

Thammy Evans has travelled and lived abroad for over 20 years, especially in China and southeast Europe. Professionally, her career lies in the field of political analysis. Despite many forays to far-off lands, she feels most at home in the southern climes of wider Europe and has lived and worked in North Macedonia for five years. She and her family now have a small stone house by the sea in Istria.

This edition has been updated by Philip Briggs, one of the world's most experienced and prolific guidebook writers. He has been associated with Bradt since 1991, since when has written or updated guides to around 20 other destinations, many of them pioneering the way to places that were then practically uncharted by the travel publishing industry.

About Bradt Travel Guides

Founded in 1974, Bradt is now the largest independently owned travel guide publisher in the UK, with more than 200 titles currently in print, over half of which have no direct competition from other guidebook lists. The company has won many awards including gold in the Top Guide Book Series category at the 2019 Wanderlust awards.
