

Date: 02.12.2019

“Northern Greece defies stereotypes, offering unexpected delights in spades” – let Dana Facaros show you around Greece’s fascinating northern region

- Explore Thessaloniki’s Roman ruins and UNESCO-listed churches filled with mosaics.
- Marvel at Meteora’s otherworldly landscape of towering rocks and precariously perched monasteries.
- Drink in stunning views from Mount Olympus, legendary home of the gods.
- Laze on pristine sandy beaches that rim the emerald green isles like lace.
- Revel in the region’s fabulous foodie culture and try all manner of local delicacies.

The author, Dana Facaros, had this to say on the area: ‘Northern Greece is in many ways a world apart. Those who already know Athens and Southern Greece could look at it as the Hellenic version of Scotland, very familiar but different, a land of astonishing natural beauty – spectacular mountains, rivers, lakes and gorgeous coastlines, its history filled with highlanders from dozens of clans – who even dressed in kilts, when they joined up with Alexander the Great.’

To request a review copy or arrange an interview, Q&A or talk with Dana, please contact: ellie.cotton@bradtguides.com. Competition giveaways and reader discount codes are also available for this title.

Northern Greece* by Dana Facaros
Published by Bradt Travel Guides, 3rd January 2020
9781784776312, £15.99

About the author

Dana Facaros has been in love with Greece ever since she was 14 and spent a summer on her father’s native island Ikaria. After studying ancient Greek, mythology and the classics during a brief stint at university, she has been visiting and writing about the country since 1977, when she wrote her first travel guide to the Greek Islands. Over the past decades she has lived in Greece, Spain, Italy, Ireland, and southwest France, where she is currently based.

About Bradt Travel Guides

Founded in 1974, Bradt is now the largest independently owned travel guide publisher in the UK, with more than 200 titles currently in print, over half of which have no direct competition from other guidebook lists. The company has won many awards including gold in the Top Guidebook Series category at the 2019 Wanderlust awards.